

Quick start guide to FT.com - Western Washington University

Financial Times for Education

The Financial Times is a global business publication that provides a broad range of information, news, and services to ambitious individuals and organizations. The FT covers a variety of topics, including management, finance, the legal industry, politics, climate change, and economics, all from a global perspective.

How can professors and students set up accounts?

1. Use this link or go to ft.com/wwu, where you will be asked to complete a sign up page one time. Be sure to use your university email address.
2. Once your account is set up, you can log into FT.com from anywhere and use the same credentials across multiple devices, including the app.

Is there an app I can use?

Apps are found in the iOS App Store or in Google Play. Use your FT.com credentials to log in.

Here are quick links to...

- Intro to FT.com videos, including how to create reading lists and how to do a search
- FT industry topic tags
- Markets Data
- FT Podcasts
- FT Course Guides on Finance, Economics, Management, Business ethics, and Global Trade and International Business
- FT on social media: Instagram, Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn
- The FT digital newspaper

Looking for specific content?

Email higher.education@ft.com for a free, personalized consultation.

Do you have customer support?

Yes - our technical support is 24/5 days a week. You can reach them at customer.support@ft.com